APPROVED BY ALFRED C. HOLLAND, STATE PURCHASING AGENT

INTRODUCTION

Established in 1963 as a means of providing a closer liaison between state and local natural resource programs, the Division of Conservation Services functions principally to assist regional conservation districts, municipal park, recreation and conservation commissions in their efforts to preserve and acquire open space and recreational lands; and to assist them in managing and properly developing those natural resources. The division provides technical and financial assistance to the fifteen (15) conservation districts and to municipal park, recreation and conservation commissions. The Division also acts as the conduit through which federal Land and Water Conservation Fund financial assistance is made available to other state or county agencies or special districts for outdoor recreation facility acquisition or development.

The Division of Conservation Services administers three grant-in-aid programs. The first is known as the Self-Help Program and provides municipal conservation commissions reimbursements up to 50% of the cost of land acquired for conservation purposes. The second is known as the Urban Self-Help Program and provides cities and urban towns with populations in excess of 35,000 people, reimbursements of up to 80% of the cost of land acquired for park or recreation purposes. The third is known as the federal Land and Water Conservation Fund Program. Monies pass through the Division from the federal Heritage Conservation and Recreation Service (formerly the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation) and provide reimbursements of up to 50% of the cost for acquisition and or development of outdoor recreation projects by municipal, county or state agencies.

In addition, the Division administers funds which are allotted to the conservation districts. It also reviews and processes conservation restrictions for approval by the Secretary of Environmental Affairs.

The division staff consists of a Director, a Coordinator, State and Municipal Recreation Programs, two Land Use Administrators, five Assistant Regional Forest and Park Supervisors who work for the division but are located in each of the five regional headquarters of the Division of Forests and Parks; and a Principal Clerk and two Senior Clerk Stenographers.

FISCAL 1978 ACTIVITIES

Fiscal year 1978 was a year of change for the Division both in personnel turnovers and program responsibility. Karen Griffin, a capable senior clerk stenographer, left to work for the Water Resources Commission. Principal Clerk, Susan Tilden, left to work for the Department of Environmental Management. Mary Barbara Alexander, the division's Self-Help Program administrator, left to pursue an acting career. We wish them all well in their new endeavors. Barbara Mathews joined the division as the Senior Clerk Stenographer replacing Karen Griffin. Alden "Slim" Cousins rejoined the Division as Region I, Assistant Regional Forest and Park Supervisor when the incumbent William Remes moved up to the DEM Region I Supervisor's position. "Slim" spent considerable time working with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers on the south shore in determining the extent of damage which occurred from the infamous February 1978 storm. Slim remained only a short while before returning to the Bureau of Solid Waste Management and was replaced by Pamela Kohlberg.

In April of 1978, the Division was relocated to the 21st floor of the Saltonstall Building to make room for an expanding Coastal Zone Management staff. The move put the Division on the same floor as the Department of Food and Agriculture in anticipation of developing a working relationship with the Department in the administration of the Agricultural Preservation Restriction Program, Chapter 780, Acts of 1977.

The Self-Help Project Selection Committee composed of representatives from the Executive Office of Environmental Affairs, Massachusetts Association of Conservation Commissions, Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination, Department of Community Affairs, Citizens Housing and Planning Association, League of Women Voters, Department of Environmental Management Planning, Office of State Planning and Education-Instruction concluded its review of the Self-Help program and policies and submitted a report with recommendations to Secretary Evelyn F. Murphy and the House Committee on Ways and Means. The Executive Office of Environmental Affairs, Division of Conservation Services adopted the recommended priority rating system and revised program procedures. Every conservation commission was sent a copy of the new Self-Help guidelines and procedures. The rating system was utilized in making the funding decisions in October of 1977. The thrust of the system was an attempt to direct more money to the Commonwealth's urban centers and to those communities which needed financial aid the most. The basic program intent remained unchanged.

LAND and WATER CONSERVATION FUND PROGRAM

The Land and Water Conservation Fund Program (Public Law 88-578), administered by the Heritage Conservation and Recreation Service (formerly Bureau of Outdoor Recreation), provides matching grants to the state and through the state to its political subdivisions for the acquisition and development of public outdoor recreation areas and facilities. Projects must be in accord with the Massachusetts Statewide Comprehensive Outdoor Recreation Plan (SCORP).

The fifty (50) states, the territories of Guam, American Samoa, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, the District of Columbia and federal agencies receive money annually from Congressional appropriations to the Land and Water Conservation Fund. The states' side of the appropriation is then apportioned among the several states and territories by a fixed formula by the Secretary of the Interior.

The fund is financed by revenues the federal Government receives in royalties from off shore oil and mineral lease sales, sales of surplus real properties, and motor boat fuel taxes.

Since 1964, Massachusetts has received some $47,817,985.06 from the Land and Water Conservation Fund. The Commonwealth's apportionment for fiscal year 1978 was $7,817,064.00. The following projects received new Land and Water Conservation Fund committments during FY '78:

The Contingency Reserve Fund is a discretionary fund set aside by the Secretary of the Interior for critical projects which would have gone unfunded and perhaps lost due to the lack of available funding sources. With Massachusetts annual L&WCF monies fully committed, the Secretary committed monies from the Contingency Reserve to assist the DEM to acquire the right of way for the Appalachian Trail.

HERITAGE CONSERVATION & RECREATION SERVICE

On January 25, 1978, the Secretary of the Interior reorganized the Department of the Interior by establishing the Heritage Conservation & Recreation Service under the Assistant Secretary, Fish and Wildlife and Parks. The new Service reconstituted the former Bureau of Outdoor Recreation with the addition of responsibilities for the National Landmarks Program and the Office of Archeology and Historic Reservations formerly within the National Park Service. Federal Water Project Recreation Act, Wild & Scenic Rivers Act, and the National Trail System Act functions were transferred from the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation to the National Park Service under the reorganization.

The new Service was designed to serve as the focal point within the federal government for planning, evaluating and coordinating the protection and preservation of the nation's cultural and natural heritage resources and for assuring adequate public recreation opportunities. The L & WCF program responsibilities remained with the newly constituted service.

STATEWIDE COMPREHENSIVE OUTDOOR RECREATION PLAN

On April 17, 1978, the Heritage Conservation & Recreation Service approved Massachusetts' third update to its Statewide Comprehensive Recreation Plan. The plan received a full five year period of eligibility to March of 1985. The Department of Environmental Management's planning staff has responsibility for maintenance of the planning document. Without such support and planning the Commonwealth would lose its eligibility to participate in the L & WCF program. The SCORP planning staff should be commended for a planning job well done. The 1978 planning process developed a new system of statewide outdoor recreation priorities and a project selection system. The priorities and selection system may be found in the SCORP document. Copies of the plan were forwarded to each and every municipality, to the legislature and the Regional Planning Agencies at no cost. The new policies and selection system will be employed in the fiscal year 1979 Land and Water Conservation Fund allocation.

SELF-HELP PROGRAM

During the fall fiscal year 1978 funding decisions, the balance of the 1977 bond issue ($6,000,000) was expended. Awards were based upon the recommendation of an interagency Self-Help Review Committee and the application of the new project rating system. Agencies represented on the committee included the Office of State Planning, Office of Coastal Zone Management, Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination, Department of Community Affairs, Division of Fisheries and Wildlife, Metropolitan District Commission and the Massachusetts Association of Conservation Commissions.

The committee was formed to assure a broader representation of policy issues in the selection process. Each participating agency had an opportunity to comment on the preliminary project ratings assigned by the Division of Conservation Services and to establish a final list on the basis of specific interests and priorities. The preliminary scores were based on a scale of demographic and project quality factors established by the Division in 1977.

Emphasizing land conservation as a prime component of the Dukakis administration's urban land and water policies, Environmental Affairs Secretary Evelyn F. Murphy announced the commitment of $1,738,960 to Self-Help land acquisitions. This amount raised the total state investment in the Self-Help program to nearly $18 million. Over the last 17 years 172 communities have contributed an equal amount in the process of acquiring approximately 30,000 acres of land for conservation and passive recreational purposes.

The fiscal 1978 award winners were:

Forty-three projects did not rank highly enough to receive Self-Help funding in the FY 1978. These applications will be reconsidered in FY 1979 when a new 4 million dollar bond issue will be available for expenditure.

URBAN SELF-HELP PROGRAM

On January 3, 1978 the legislature enacted Chapter 933, Acts of 1977 which created the Urban Self-Help Program. The Legislature authorized the Secretary of the Executive Office of Environmental Affairs to establish a program to assist acquisition efforts of cities and urban towns with populations in excess of 35,000. The Act permits the Secretary to provide up to 80% reimbursement for eligible park or recreation land acquisition projects. The Division of Conservation Services has been assigned the responsibility of program administration.

Late in their session the Legislature also approved a $5,000,000 Capital Outlay Request to fund the program.

Applications filed during the year will be assigned priority ratings and rank ordered as per the rating criteria which are part of the State-wide Comprehensive Outdoor Recreation Plan. Funding decisions will be made in the fall of 1978 and will appear in the FY 1979 report.

CONSERVATION RESTRICTION PROGRAM

M.G.L. Chapter 184, Section 31-33 as amended, further defines conservation restrictions and requires approval of same by the Secretary of the Executive Office of Environmental Affairs. The Division of Conservation Services processes the restrictions for the Secretary's signature.

Interest in the conservation restriction program continued to grow in fiscal 1978. Concern over potential revisions to local property tax assessment procedures provided an additional incentive to place valuable open space under restriction.

During the 1978 fiscal year, the Division processed 85 conservation restrictions incorporating 1,787 acres of land. This raised the total number of restrictions on file to 435. The total acreage under restriction increased correspondingly to 13,052.

The Division of Conservation Services continued in its attempts to work with Massachusetts Registers of Deeds in devising an acceptable restriction tract index system. An informal committee composed of MacDonald Barr of the Department of Community Affairs, Dunbar Holmes, Attorney for the Massachusetts Conveyances Association, Merwin Chandler, Massachusetts Department of Public Works, William Tyler, Attorney with Rackman, Sawyer & Brewster; and Paul Shwab, South Middlesex Registry of Deeds was created to study the problem and develop a proposed system which would be acceptable to all the Registers.

The problem has become particularly important with the passage of Chapter 780, Acts of 1977, the Agricultural Development Rights bill which mandates the creation of tract indices. Previous legislation left the index system up to the discretion of each Register.

STATE COMMITTEE ON SOIL, WATER and RELATED RESOURCES

As required by MGL Chapter 21, Section 19, the State Committee met four times during fiscal 1978. Two new members joined the Committee in a year when a number of innovative policy directions were considered.

Harley Phelps replaced Linwood Lesure as the representative from the Massachusetts Farm Bureau and John Roberts was sworn in as a delegate from the Massachusetts Association of Conservation Districts (MACD). Former MACD representative George Hartley stepped down after many years of service to the conservation district system and to the State Committee. His many years of selfless service was later to be recognized by the Governor in the form of a letter of appreciation.

The Committee approved and implemented a new system for evaluating conservation district budgets and making funding recommendations to the Secretary of Environmental Affairs. As a result of the change all districts were required to submit considerably more detailed budgets and a new emphasis was placed on the quality of specific program elements. The legislative appropriation of $40,000 was distributed in two segments. First, a base maintenance allowance was determined for each of the fifteen districts. The remaining funds (approximately half the total appropriation) were then distributed according to the merits of individual program proposals. It was agreed that by awarding funds on a competitive basis, the Committee encouraged more innovative programs among the districts.

The State Committee also approved an allocation of $1,000 in the care of the Hampden Conservation District for a demonstration project which created the Connecticut River Basin Environmental District. As authorized by Chapter 21, Section 25 of the General Laws, the special district is composed of the Hampden, Hampshire, Franklin and Berkshire Conservation Districts and was created to deal with policy issues affecting the Connecticut River and its watershed.

Norton Nickerson was elected to another term as Committee Chairman by unanimous vote.

One of the most prevalent topics of discussion by the State Committee was the Conservation Districts Program Review Board Report. At their January, 1978 meeting, the State Committee discussed at length District finances and use of state funds. The Committee voted to generally support the Board's conclusions.

CONSERVATION DISTRICTS

The Plymouth and Bristol Conservation Districts continued their cooperative and successful 208 program. In addition to the Middlesex and Bristol Districts, the Franklin Conservation District developed a small grants program for conservation commissions.

The Conservation District Program Review Board submitted its preliminary report to Secretary Evelyn F. Murphy in September, 1977. The report recommended among other things, that Conservation District responsibilities be expanded to enable Districts to meet needs of Conservation Commissions, that the State Committee be severed from the Division of Conservation Services, that the State Committee take a more active leadership role, that Districts be loosely aggregated into five regions but retain separate and distinct identities and that the State Committee study further the election of supervisors. Secretary Murphy dissolved the Program Review Board in December 1977, having concluded that the Board had fulfilled its objectives and that further review would be fruitless.
